

Item Lore - Gav Sarafian

Dark Souls Style

Ring of Deceptive Hope

A thick band with an amber heart-shaped gem embedded in its metal, it feels faintly warm to the touch. While equipped, allows its wearer to survive a death blow - but upon resting, health is lowered by one-half.

"Considered cursed by the Knights of Astora, this ring was to be destroyed - until a skillful thief procured it. It has since changed hands many times; however, one may consider that there is a reason for this."

Ouroboros Ring

A tarnished metal ring, in the shape of a serpent devouring its own tail. It instils in its wearer a sense of wellbeing - while quietly harvesting the energy around them. This ring boosts its wearer's HP, but reduces the amount of souls gathered by one-half.

"Lady Deméa of Carim commissioned this ring for her champion, said to be a mighty knight. He slew many, but was said to never feel satisfied. The Lady, on the other hand, seemingly grew stronger after every battle."

Scourge Whip

This whip feels slimy to the touch, and yet sturdy. It appears to be made of a vine wrapped around leather, with metal thread intertwined throughout. Small chance on hit to cast a fiery lightning bolt, with a smaller chance of it backfiring on its wielder.

"An exile of the Great Swamp was once said to have merged the properties of fire with that of lightning - and so was cast out for it. The tool they crafted in service of this pursuit was capable of great devastation - for its target, and for its wielder."

Far Cry Style

Homogenizer

Blunderbuss

Short-range, slow, powerful single shot

"Why bother with all the hassle of buying, storing, and loading bullets, when you can just grab a fistful of whatever's around you, and shove it down the barrel of this thing? Just don't stick your fingers in it."

Sparky

Electroshock Weapon

Short-range, single-shot, holdout weapon

“When the cops use these, It’s ‘less lethal’, but when I use it, it’s ‘reckless endangerment’?? What a double-standard. Anyway, these work great if you wanna quietly remove a problem from the environment, or make your friends piss themselves. -Arturo”

Tactical Umbrella

Concealed Weapon

Single-shot long gun, melee weapon, and rain repellant

“When darkened skies threaten to put a damper on your party, just pop open one of these beauties. I don’t care who says weaponry can’t also be fashionable; this is a must for those who dress to impress, and to kill. Oh, and it’ll keep the rain off you, as well.”

Mutazione Style

Pocket Frog

From the Swamp Garden. Bopek asked you to transport him to the Marsh (apparently, his name is Cheddar).

Lantern

Spike lent this ancient, heavy lantern to Kai “as a short-term loan for the Caves”, but didn’t exactly say when he wanted it back.

Fidget Spinner

Given to Kai by Tung, after he decided to try to stop watching so much TV. Soothing, and it lights up!
